Ways to prevent heat loss

By SHIRLEY W. WALTON
Extension Agent

Public Health Service (PHS) lists some steps to take in case of sudden heat loss where you live;

1. Immediately close off a small room (or section) of your house or apartment and move your family into it. Pick a room on the warm side of the house or apartment, usually the south side. Preferably use a room with only one outside wall, rather than a corner room. If the windows are not insulated, cover them on the inside with plastic. Several layers of clear plastic garment bags, the kind you get from the dry cleaners, will do the job. If you do not have those, use a blanket. Experiment with the blanket during the day. Sunlight coming through the window may help warm the room.

2. If the floor is bare, cover it with rugs or blankets. The more the better,

3. If the room has a door, keep it closed. You may have to put a rug or towel against the crack at the bottom of the door to prevent a draft. If you do not have a door to the room, cover the entrance with blankets.

4. If the room has a fireplace, use it. But make sure there is enough air coming into the room from elsewhere in the house to make a draft. Otherwise the fireplace will smoke. If you run out of firewood, burn tightly rolled newspapers. Do not close the dampers, however, before the fire is completely out.

5. If it is bitterly cold out, you may have to drain water pipes and toilets before the water in them freezes. Learn how to do that from a plumber before the emergency arises. Water in the hot water tank will stay warm for a day or so. But if the house is going to be cold for any length of time, drain the hot water heater also. Save some water for personal use.

6. Wear warm clothes. Layers of clothing work best to contain body heat. Wear heavy socks. Make sure they stay dry. Wear a wool cap.

7. If there is food in the house that should not be allowed to freeze, put it in the refrigerator.

8. Let a neighbor or someone in the community know that you are without heat. This is especially important if you live in an isolated rural area.

9. If your house has no electricity as a source of alternate heat, or if you cannot get sufficient warmth from a fireplace, go immediately to a shelter area. If the roads are bad, notify rescue personnel.

If you have a homemaking question or problem, you may call 352-8244 or write us at P. O. Box 488, Appomattox, Va. 24522.

Have a good week!

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Jennifer's Red Hot Applesauce Salad

2 ½ cups boiling water
½ cup red cinnamon candies
6 oz. dissolved gelatin
1 (1lb.) can or 2 cups sweetened applesauce
1 (8oz.) pkg. cream cheese
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup chopped nuts

Combine boiling water with cinnamon candies in saucepan; stir over low heat until candies are dissolved. Remove from heat; stir in gelatin until dissolved, then blend in applesauce. Pour ½ of mixture into a 2 qt. mold or 8" square pan. Chill until firm.

Blend softened cream cheese with mayonnaise add nuts. Spread cheese mixture over chilled gelatin. Carefully pour remaining gelatin mixture over cheese mixture. Chill several hours or best to chill overnight.

Yield - 9 servings.

Thanks to Jennifer Midgett for sharing this delicious salad with us. She recently served this at a church supper and it was the "hit of the evening."

Frozen ponds and streams

Create water shortage for livestock

By JAMES A. SMITH
Extension Agent

Livestock require an adequate source of water and minerals in winter. Small streams and ponds get frozen over this time of year and cattle can go for days without water unless efforts are made to maintain a source.

Minerals are essential to any good winter feeding program. A good general purpose mineral mix carries a ratio of 2:1 calcium to phosphorus, plus salt. One that you may want to consider is:

2 parts - dicalcium phosphate, steamed bone meal or defluorinated rock phosphate
+
1 part - Trace mineral salt

If grass tetany has been a problem for you, consider this mix: 1 part - Corn or other palatable feed; 1 part - Trace mineral salt; 1 part - Dicalcium phosphate, steamed bone meal or defluorinated rock phosphate; 1 part - Magnesium oxide

There are some who feel that cattle should get magnesium oxide every day. The concern is that, contrary to popular belief, grass tetany isn't just a late winter, spring problem.

Every year gardeners call to ask how to control blossom-end rot in tomatoes, pepper or eggplant. A similar disease occurs in other crops using different names: Black heart of celery, tip burn of lettuce and bitter pit of apple.

The cause is a low concentration of calcium. This element is required in relatively large amounts by growing cells. When a growing cell is suddenly deprived of necessary calcium, the tissue breaks down. Turns black, dry, leathery spot at the blossom end.

When the demand for calcium exceeds the supply, the "disease" appears. What causes the supply of calcium to drop? Our soils are naturally acid; liming to proper pH level would be useful. High levels of competitive cations, such as aluminum, magnesium, potassium, sodium and ammonium, will also cause the condition to occur. Drought is a prime triggering agent for blossom end rot.

You can reduce blossom end rot by maintaining the proper soil pH. This means soil testing and applying appropriate amounts of limestone. Use calcium nitrate as a nitrogen source. Avoid the use of ammonium nitrate whenever possible. Maintain good soil moisture level by mulching with organic materials (strat, pine needles, hulls or black plastic).

A research project reported in The Tennessee Farm and Home Science on a two year study of broccoli varieties indicates that Green Duke and Cleopatra had significantly higher yields per acre.

There were 39,162 yearlings marketed through the special feeder sales last fall in Virginia, averaging 726 pounds and selling for $68.19 per cwt.

This compares as follows with the Lynchburg yearling sales. In the first sale 913 were sold, averaging 653 pounds and bringing $68.86. In the last sale 294 yearlings averaged 764 pounds and brought $69.37.

W. E. Bondurant, Jr. was re-elected to a three year term as a Director of the Lynchburg Feeder Cattle Sales.

Oval Windows Can be Stained Glass

OLD FASHIONED FRONT PORCH PLAN

FEATURE HOMES
© By W. D. FARMER

A wide front porch leads to the foyer and open rail L-shaped stair, as well as a full depth great room. The great room boasts deck access, basement access a fireplace and wet bar.

Bonus pantry, linen closet and coat closet are in corridor to kitchen and a half bath is adjacent. The kitchen has a U shape work area, along with extra cabinets and desk to the opposite side. The adjoining breakfast area includes a bay window, double side entry garage access and access to a large laundry room.

There are three bedrooms upstairs, the master extending The full depth to include private bath with separate tub and shower and dressing room. Book shelves are shown and an enormous walk-in closet is provided. A linen closet, attic fan and disappearing stair to attic storage is from the main hall along open rail stair.

The two remaining bedrooms have good closet space and a private study is shown in upper foyer.

The Victorian exterior is enhanced by ornate trim, single pane and oval windows, front porch and combined hip and gable roof.

The plan is Number 2052. It includes 2,090 square feet of heated area. All W. D. Farmer plans include special construction details for energy efficiency and are guaranteed to meet FHA and VA requirements. For further information write W. D. Farmer, P.O. Box 49463, Atlanta, Ga. 30359.
